MORE COMPLAINTS MADE TO P. S. COMMISSION.

Stories of brutal treatment were related by strikebreakers who appealed to the Public Service Commission for help shortly before noon to-day. C. A. Powers of Chicago said he had his time card taken away from him and was told that he could get it if he went to the office at One Hundred and Forty-fith Street and Lenox Avenue.

"When I got there," said Powers, "am an asked me what I wanted. I told him! 'Hore it is,' said he, as he poked the barrel of a pistoi against my solar plexus. The man with the pistol was a Bergoff man."

Hugh Doyle, an eighteen-year-old lad, who says his home is in St. Louis, demanded his time card after it had been taken from him. He said his coat was ripped from his back, he was beaten and kicked and smawhed in the mouth so hard that his lower lip was spelt open almost to the chin.

A reporter from The Evening World was allowed to go through the One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street barns this afternoon and talk privately with any of the strikebreakers he pleased. He found the place clean, including cots and blankets. There was a barber shop, which was busy, and five or six shower baths. Superintendent K. P. Carson, in charge for the Bergoff-Waddell Company, said more showers were being installed.

Preckies show the neglect of a delicately sensitive skin. You know how easily they come. They will go away and can be kept away just as easily by the guaranteed treatment recently discovered by a specialist. It is made of extracts taken from the seeds of fruits and flowers. Use it night and morning as you would a cold cream. One package will make a marvellous improvement in your complexion. If you are not delighted after an honest trial, take the package back to your dealer and your money will be returned without question. This delightful preparation is absolutely pure. A child might est the contents of a package without the slightest iil effect. It is called, in French, Creme L'Ame (Lamay). You get it for only 250 at Macy's and Riker's. Remember, it is a new discovery; nothing 'ke Creme L'Ame (Lamay) has ever before been made.—Advi. (Special to The Ferning World.)

What Becomes of Your Milk Dollar

This diagram tells the story of how your dollar was distributed by the Borden Farm Products Division, East, during the year ending June 30, 1916.

31/4 cents as profit to the distributor.

And remember this—that nothing that comes to your table requires anything like the comprehensive SERVICE that a good milk supply demands. We supervise the production of Borden's milk with a corps of ninety-two inspectors and veterinarians. These constitute the largest inspection force in the world devoted to supervising a milk supply.

This force is nearly twice as large as the combined in-spection force of New York and Chicago. It means that the Borden supply is the most intensively inspected large supply of milk in America. This service also includes the operation of clean, orderly plants in the country where the milk is produced and a never ceasing supervision over the product until it is delivered to your door, and the law requires that it be delivered at a temperature not higher than 50 degrees.

It provides a service that keeps the production of each day moving in a constant stream from the dairying districts -sometimes nearly four hundred miles away-to the consuming markets.

It provides a service that requires a milkman to come to your door at a certain hour each day, rain or shine, hot or cold, and there never was a time when New York had a whole day's supply ahead.

It provides a service that cannot be interrupted for one day without serious inconvenience, endangering the lives of thousands of children.

Fresh milk, unlike other commodities, cannot be stored, cannot be held, cannot be juggled on the market, but must be turned over every day or its value is so impaired that what is realized is only salvage instead of value.

No food product demands such exacting service on the part of the distributor. No staple product on the market provides the distributor with so small a net profit as MILK.
